Mr. Hall defined the position of the Republican party.

Mr. Stanton replied to Mr. English. He said that not one man in a thousand in Ohio or the Northwest, was in favor of extending equal social or political privileges to negroes. He granted, as treasonable, the purpose of the Democrats who arow that the election of Seward, or any other Rack Renublican as President, is sufficient to the purpose of the Democrats who arow that the election of Seward, or any other Rack Renublican as President, is sufficient to the purpose of the Countilete and the Retroit the purpose of the Democrats who avow that the election of Seward, or any other Back Republican as President, is sufficient cause for the dissolution of the Union.

Mr. English explained. He did not believe a corporal's guard of the Democratic party were willing to go out of the Union because of the mere election of any objectionable man for President. because of the mere election of any objectionable man for Precident.

Mr. Stanton said that was true as to a good many Democrats in the free States, but they are in fellowship with those who avowed such sentiments in order to aid them to tetain control of the Government.
